

*“Until one is committed, there is hesitancy,
the chance to draw back. Always ineffectiveness.*

*Concerning all acts of initiative (and creation)
there is one elementary truth, the ignorance of which kill countless ideas and splendid plans:
that the moment one definitely commits oneself,
then providence moves too.*

All sorts of things occur that would never otherwise have occurred.

A whole stream of events issues from the decision, raising in ones favor all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance which no man could have dreamt would come his way.

I have learned a deep respect for one of Goethe’s couplets-

*“Whatever you can do or dream you can, begin it.
Boldness has genius power land magic in it.”*
